THE team at Settler's Cove has got into the spirit of "Movember" by sporting some additional facial hair, all for a good cause.

Gary Godfrey, Dane Larcombe and Shannon Gillard are growing moustaches during November to raise funds for men's health issues such as awareness of prostate cancer and depression.

"It's a great opportunity to raise awareness of men's health issues, specifically prostate cancer and depression," Settler's Cove general manager Gary Godfrey said. "They (the moustaches) have been a great source of amusement to a lot of our clients but while we laugh about our moustaches, there is a real seriousness behind the work of the Movember Foundation".

All money raised during Movember is donated to the Prostate Cancer Foundation of Australia and beyondblue, the national depression
